

Flying Horse Homework

Writing homework will be on Tuesdays. Students will be submitting their writing to the Pantagraph for the Flying Horse contest that is published in the Sunday paper. Please have students write for approximately 20-25 minutes and proofread when they are finished. I encourage you to have students take ownership of their learning and circle words they are unsure of. Then, go back when they are finished and correct them together. Writing should be neat-- you may want to create a web of ideas or rough draft, although it is not required.

You may use page to draw a picture that goes along with your writing. If you do choose to draw a picture, make sure it is colorful! I would suggest following our "hallway work expectations" to really make your colors POP. 1. Use a pencil to draw, 2. Trace over with black marker, 3. Color-- this is not required though. Do not trace over your written portion with a black marker, please.
